Isley Says:

Bulk of Govt. Controls End In Next Year

OTTAWA, March 21, (CP)—Justice Minister Isley told the Commons last night that he believed the "great bulk" of emergency controls will have been discontinued by this time next year.

Moving the resolution to the government's "omnibus" control bill, Mr. Isley said:

"I can certainly say . . . that the government does not expect to come to the House a year from now with a proposal for the continuance of the orders-in-council annexed to the proposed bill, at least in anything like their present breadth and scope."

"There are some fields in which specific controls may still be necessary even then."

"HONORABLE MEMBERS can judge for themselves whether rental controls will still be needed in a year's time and it is possible that we may still have some continuing problems of a major nature in regard to a few commodities such as sugar."

"But it would be my judgment that any residual problems could be dealt with specifically and that we should have discontinued the great bulk of emergency controls before that time."

Mr. Isley said he believed de-control was likely to proceed "quite rapidly" in the months ahead but at the same time he emphasized the government's intention to avoid "disorderly price fluctuations and continued markets which abrupt abandonment of all controls would be certain to produce."

Shortly after Mr. Isley moved his resolution, M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, moved an amendment calling on the house to urge the government to stop its "headlong" de-control policy and to introduce a system of orderly and democratic

Plan Faster Than Sound Plane Tests

LONDON, March 21.—(Reuters)—Britain's ministry of civil aviation today warned all airlines pilots against using the ocean area off the southwest corner of England for six months starting April 1, because of "faster-than-sound" pilotless plane tests.

A spokesman said the tests will be made in daylight when the pilotless planes will be visible to aircraft.

Scientists hope the planes will reach a speed of more than 800 miles an hour. All tests will be carried out under the guidance of scientists, but the RAF will co-operate in launching the pilotless planes from mosquito aircraft.

Oppose Russia

Britain, U.S. Ask Federated German Govt.

By R. H. SHACKFORD

MOSCOW, March 21, (BU-P)—The United States and Britain presented to the Big Four today a plan for a federalized Germany, patterned somewhat after the American constitutional plan, in direct opposition to Russia's demands for a strongly centralized Reich.

SECRETARY OF STATE George C. Marshall and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin sharply attacked Soviet proposals for a centralized Germany, asserting that centralization might lay the foundation for some future Adolf Hitler once again to seize control of the German state.

Marshall told the council of ministers bluntly that the United States would insist upon a German governmental structure which would provide "effective guarantees for the safeguarding of fundamental freedoms in all parts of Germany."

The Anglo-American plan for a federated Germany, headed by a president and with a bicameral legislature and supreme court, roughly on the American plan, was submitted to the Big Four by Bevin.

MARSHALL immediately supported the Bevin plan, but Foreign

But don't get anxious! Officials at national defence headquarters point out that this huge task is going to take a long time to complete and emphasize that no one need expect to receive their medals for quite some time. All possible is being done, however, to expedite delivery.

Red Deer O.K.

Flood Waters Hit Southern Alberta Hard

RED DEER, Alta., March 21, (CP)—The Red Deer river was back to normal today after 48 hours during which it flooded its banks and claimed five lives and a score of animals. However, further south the worst surface flood conditions ever encountered in that part of Alberta were reported continuing.

AS RED DEER River waters receded from their unprecedented rise of 14 feet yesterday there were many signs of the violence of the breakup. Dead cattle and sheep were left in the waters, lumber and other debris was floating on the surface and persons living near the banks began unpacking household articles they had planned to take with them had wholesale evacuation been necessary.

AT BARNWELL, 25 miles east of Lethbridge, railway gangs worked frantically today to restore 100 feet of Canadian Pacific Railway company track washed away.

Except for wire communication, Barnwell was almost isolated from contact with other points. Highways as well as the railway line were blocked by the waters. The water level on the main highway was reported to have risen to a height of at least eight feet, a traffic detour was made out and small dirt roads were transformed into streams.

EVERY LOW-LYING area was covered with water which spread so rapidly after flood conditions first started in the region yesterday that several families were forced to evacuate their homes and schools were closed.

Embargo Possible

Cut Iron, Steel To Soviet Zone

BERLIN, March 21.—(AP)—A joint British-American announcement said today that British and American authorities had sharply reduced shipments of German iron and steel to the Soviet zone and are considering a total embargo because the Russian zone has failed to fulfill terms of a trade agreement.

THE JOINT STATEMENT said the Soviet zone was lagging far behind its commitments under the agreement with the combined British-American zone to deliver foodstuffs and various other materials in exchange for steel and iron.

The statement said deliveries of iron and steel up to the end of February had fulfilled 95 percent of the British-American commitment.

CPR's Finances Improved in 1946

OTTAWA, March 21.—(CP)—The financial position of the Canadian Pacific Railway showed a net improvement of $5,769,000 in 1946, Assistant Comptroller S. J. W. Liddy told the Board of Transport Commissioners today.

TESTIFYING at the railway freight-rate inquiry, the CPR official was answering questions on the financial status of the company asked by C. H. Locke, British Columbia counsel.

Mr. Locke had asked yesterday if it were correct that the company had shown a net improvement of $38,455,000 last year. Today, Mr. Liddy said this was not right.

He declared the provincial counsel had not taken into account more than $20,000,000 in depreciation of the company's property during the year. While this figure was listed as "depreciation" reserve, it actually was not a reserve but "the reverse of an asset."

RAF Lancaster Crashes in Sea

LONDON, March 21.—(AP)—The air ministry today announced an RAF Lancaster plane, engaged in a naval co-operation exercise, had crashed in the Atlantic ocean north of Ireland during the night. Four members of the nine-man crew were picked up by rescue boats, but two died later, the announcement said. The RAF still was searching for the remains of five men.

May Admit 100,000 Immigrants Yearly

By Chester Bloom
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, March 21.—Details of a new Canadian, liberalized immigration policy, permitting admission of up to 100,000 new Canadians annually are expected to be announced in the House next week by Prime Minister King.

The admission of such immigrants, however, will be coupled with better machinery for more rigid health, moral character, and working category qualifications.

The new regulations will provide, it is understood, for admission of fixed quotas of displaced persons now in the British and American occupation zones of Germany. An additional number of Polish soldiers who belonged to General Anders' army, and who refuse to return to their now Russian-dominated homeland, also will be admitted but under more severe medical scrutiny than the previous two thousand who replaced German prisoners sent back from Canada.

SEVENTY OF THESE men are still in hospital being treated for tuberculosis. Britain is expected to share part of the cost.

It has become quite evident that the recent appointment of Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, widely-experienced in European affairs as a former minister and ambassador, to the post of deputy minister of mines and resources, was aimed chiefly at reform of immigration regulations. Immigration remains under the control of the mines and resources department, hence Dr. Keenleyside's appointment to deputy.

Medical examination of prospective immigrants to Canada is already under way at Paris, Brussels, The Hague, Oslo and other centres in Denmark, Portugal, Greece and Czechoslovakia. Many highly qualified, civilized refugees from the Hitler juggernaut still remain in Portugal.

AIM OF THE NEW regulations will be to especially encourage immigration of farm workers, miners, lumbermen, house maids and likewise men and women skilled in various handicrafts.

Against "Outside Pressure"

U.S. Aid for Turkey To Bolster Defences

WASHINGTON, March 21, (BUP)—Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson said today that it is "dangerous to the security of the United States to have Communist dominated governments anywhere." Acheson was asked by a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee whether it would not be dangerous to have Communist-dominated governments in the Pacific. He replied: "It is dangerous to the security of the United States to have Communist dominated governments anywhere."

WASHINGTON, March 21, (BUP)—Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson said today that Turkey needed American aid to bolster its defence against such "external pressures" as the Soviet government's insistence upon participating in the defence of the strategic Dardanelles.

Man Loses $2,250 In City Hotel

The loss of $2,250 in cash was reported to city police, Friday, by P. G. Dilworth, 10325 104 street. He told police he lost the money Thursday while in the beverage room of a city hotel. The money was secured with an elastic band and was in Dilworth's overcoat pocket. He said he missed the money Friday morning.

The money was made up in fifteen $100 bills and fifteen $50 bills. Mr. Dilworth said he just received the money from sale of his half share in a saw-mill.

Gale Warnings Given in Britain

LONDON, March 21 (AP)—Gale warning went up throughout Britain today and "worsening conditions" were reported in the two most critical flood areas — the Fenland region in the east and the northern mining town of Bentley.

RIVERS WERE reported receding in virtually all other areas, however, after the country's worst flood disaster in memory. Soldiers and volunteers stacked more sandbags on a 12-mile long, seven-foot high dyke holding back the swollen Wiskey river in the Fenlands, where entire communities and 110 square miles of rich farm land already were under water.

Troops in amphibians handed bags of food through bedroom windows to some families refusing to quit their waterlogged homes. The air ministry forecast sporadic rains and said expected gales would be "very severe."

In Reparations $91,960,000 Paid U.K. By Germany

MOSCOW, March 21.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin revealed in the council of foreign ministers tonight that the United Kingdom had received reparations of more than $22,990,000 ($91,960,000) from Germany since the end of the war. THESE REPARATIONS, Bevin said, were divided as follows:

1. From industrial capital equipment, 4,400,000 reichmarks at the 1938 (40-cent) value.
2. From shipping, 350,000 tons of vessels valued at £6,350,000 ($25,400,000).
3. From German external assets seized in the United Kingdom territory under the January, 1946, agreement at Paris, from £15,000,000 to £20,000,000.

U.S. Communists Plotting "Fraud"

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(BUP)—American Communists are plotting a cynical fraud on the American people to be pulled off here in early May. They hope they can trick Dwight D. Eisenhower into being a front for it.

They are rigging a phony "march on Washington" by about 500 war veterans. Communist headquarters is discussing the chances of persuading Eisenhower to address the banquet at which the two days of party-line pow-wow will conclude. If the Communist high command in New York is not smart enough to realize General Ike cannot be caught that way, they can take my word for it that he won't be present at their party.

The march on Washington is part of the Communist emergency counter-offensive against proposals to outlaw the party. It ties in with the party's opposition to United States foreign policy. Communist headquarters' instructions for the Washington demonstration state that the call will be issued by a number of veterans and will be endorsed by the national veterans committee.

Britain Continues Help to Greece

LONDON, March 21.—(AP)—Informed government sources said today that Britain would continue some economic and military assistance to Greece until aid from the United States became effective. Britain previously had notified the Greek and American governments she would be unable to continue her commitments to Greece after March 31. Informants added that Britain's aid would be "economic and financial" to cover expenses of the Greek army and that British officers were helping the Greek government plan its spring offensive against guerrillas.

LONDON, March 21.—(Reuters)—More than 1,000 Canadians in Britain, veterans of both World wars, will participate in a Vimy Ridge memorial parade and service to be held in London, Sunday, April 21. The high commissioner for Canada, Rt. Hon. Norman Robertson, will attend.

Baby's Body Is Recovered

The body of the fifth victim drowned in the flooded Red Deer river Wednesday was recovered at 7:30 a.m. Friday according to a report received by RCMP. It was the body of one-month-old Sharon Harpe. The five bodies will all be sent to Athabasca for burial. On Thursday the bodies of Mrs. Gordon Harpe, her two sons, Stanley, 4, and Ronald, 2, and Mrs. Clinton Donald were recovered.

Urges Inquiry Into Truck Deal

Suggestion that an investigation be made into the operations of Marketing Services Ltd. with a view to disciplining members of the staff who had been involved in a deal concerning eight trucks, was made to George A. Clash, managing director of the organization when the public accountants committee was sitting in the legislature on Friday morning, by Harper Prowse (Army).

MR. PROWSE was questioning Mr. Clash concerning the detail on the trucks, which had been purchased through Marketing Services Ltd. by a firm known as Northwest Trucking, which was not an incorporated firm. The trucks were sold by the principals of the firm, named Hydrom and Morine at a price well above ceiling price, for which offence they were taken to police court.

Since the assets of the firm had been dissipated, the court sentenced them to a normal fine—but no reimbursement was made to the eight victims of the purchase.

Hydrom and Morine had testified that some one in the offices of the Marketing Services Ltd. had suggested to them that by separating the bodies and hoists from the chassis of the trucks, they could get the advantage of two ceiling prices.

Some one in the offices of Marketing Services Ltd. had directed a potential truck buyer, Joseph Goff, of Fort Saskatchewan, to the office of the accused pair where he was told he would be able to buy a truck for his son.

Mr. Prowse said an affidavit to that effect signed by Mr. Goff was available.

Reduce Oil Flow At Imperial Well

Production from Imperial Oil Ltd. No. 1 well at Leduc was reduced to 72 barrels Thursday as officials concentrated on conservation of storage space at the well-head until the ban on heavy traffic on the highways has been lifted.

Drilling continued on the No. 2 well, and it is now at the 4,359 foot level. No. 3 well has been drilled to the 932 foot level, and work is progressing on the erection of rigging for the No. 4 well.

$35 Reduction Ford Company Cuts Car Prices

WINDSOR, Ont., March 21 (CP)—Douglas B. Greig, president of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., announced today a reduction of $35 in the retail delivered price of all models of Ford, Monarch and Mercury passenger automobiles and of Ford and Mercury trucks.

HE SAID THE reduction will become effective throughout Canada tomorrow morning. Mr. Greig said the price reduction "is dictated both by consideration of the national interest and of our own interest." The company considered the reduction "an initial move in what we hope will be a widespread attack on inflationary forces."

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau OTTAWA, March 21.—Donald Gordon, retiring chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, expressed pleasure this morning at the news that the Ford Motor Company of Canada has announced a reduction per car right down the line on all Ford cars.

May Discontinue WPTB This Year

OTTAWA, March 21.—(CP)—Government sources said yesterday it was possible that the prices board might disappear as a separate unit of government some time late this year and its remaining functions turned over to the other departments.

THIS SPECULATION was aroused by announcement of the impending retirement of Donald Gordon as chairman of the board. The prime minister's announcement the government had decided the de-control program was sufficiently far advanced to allow Mr. Gordon to return to his pre-war job was taken as an indication that the functions of the board gradually are lessening and the time may soon come when its remaining and less-essential duties can be absorbed by other departments.

It was recalled there has been frequent speculation that meat rationing likely will be terminated this summer. This step alone would relieve the board of considerable rationing machinery.

Mr. Prowse said an affidavit to that effect signed by Mr. Goff was available.

They're Glad To Be Alive — Happy Spring's Here

Marooned in Merciless Northern Blizzard For Two Weeks, Truckers Arrive in City

By J. V. O'NEILL

Not that they were moved by Nature's hints that "spring has come" but for much more solid reasons two men in Edmonton Friday said they were glad to be alive.

LOST, MAROONED, and facing the perils of merciless sub-zero blizzards for more than two weeks on the bleak and frozen vastness of Great Slave Lake, Henry (Red) Dussault and Henry (Slim) Loken, partners in a trucking service at Yellowknife, told of how it had taken a full month, packed with struggle and frostbite, to arrive here from Yellowknife in their heavily-loaded truck.

Out of a "convoy" of eight trucks of different companies hauling between Yellowknife, Lower Hay and Edmonton, the only one to get through was the truck driven by Loken and Dussault.

THEY LEFT Jan. 26 with the idea of cutting 60 or 70 miles off their trip by taking a direct line over the frozen Great Slave Lake. One day out and they were enveloped in a blizzard which brought a snowfall so deep that the trucks could not manage to buck their way forward, even with the help of a snowplow in the lead.

"We realized we were lost," said Loken. "So we decided to sit there and await developments."

IN THE EFFORTS made to re-move their trucks in succeeding days much of the fuel was used up, completely immobilizing many of the machines.

After a three-day blizzard and sleeping nights under their truck on the frozen wastes, Dussault and Loken, after fueling from one of the other trucks, found they could move over the frozen drifts, and so left the party to pursue their journey to Edmonton.

They proceeded at a snail's pace for several days and again ran into blizzards, drifts and worse still—an empty gas tank.

MEANWHILE PILOTS of the Peace River Northern Flights Limited were sent out in a search initiated by Hal Currie of Yellowknife and with the personnel of the other seven trucks were flown back to Yellowknife. Later they returned with fuel and drove their trucks to Lower Hay.

At the spot where Dussault and Loken were marooned landing facilities were non-existent, drifts were too deep.

Loken described the depressing feeling they both experienced after a plane came within sight of their flare but veered in the blizzard sky and disappeared into the north.

Horticulturist Says Small Garden Plots Can Be Attractive and Productive

By intelligent planning and observation of a few simple rules small garden plots could be made richly productive, according to W. J. Cardy of the Edmonton Horticultural Society.

HE SPOKE Thursday evening at the regular monthly dinner meeting of the South Side Businessmen's Association. Fifty members were in attendance. The meeting was held in the Strathcona Baptist Church.

Proper mixture of soils with approved fertilizer, planting vegetable seed at correct depth, with care taken to see there was no overcrowding, would result in a better yield of better quality vegetables.

MR. CARDY outlined the common diseases of potatoes and of methods of treating the tubers for healthier and better production. He mentioned also diseases and remedies for crab and mountain ash trees.

In explaining the work and aims of the society, Mr. Cardy urged the community leagues to take an active interest in furthering its objectives.

controls. The amendment was ruled out of order by Speaker Gaudet, and, on an appeal, his decision was upheld 136 to 26.

MR. ILISLEY spoke in moving the resolution to the monster bill which will seek continuance of major controls due to expire with the termination May 15 of the Emergency Powers Act.

He thus broadened the approach of what is expected to be a long and bitter opposition fight against the entire fabric of the government's decontrol program.

The object of the measure will be to continue in force for another year a specified group of wartime orders and controls of "emergency character" which the government considers necessary if orderly decontrol is to be achieved.

The debate proper on the bill is expected to open Monday with a Progressive Conservative attack on the whole control system.

IN MOVING the resolution, Mr. Ilisley read a lengthy statement in which he classified the various controls for which continuance will be sought and told of the chaotic conditions which would result if the country if they were allowed to lapse.

He recalled that the National Emergency Transitional Power Act, under which they were carried over from the war period, was due to expire March 20, although by parliamentary action it now has been extended to May 15 to permit study of the continuing bills.

He said the orders fell into three classes—regulative, administrative and legislative.

Examples of regulative orders were those authorizing the continuance of price control, rent control, rationing and supply, including rationing.

ADMINISTRATIVE orders included those relating to the members and former members of the armed forces and merchant seamen, the disposition of claims against the Crown arising overseas out of the war and the administration of property of Japanese in Canada.

Among legislative orders were those relating to old age pensions, veterans' preference in the civil service and labor relations. These would be replaced later in the current session by acts of Parliament.

Mr. Ilisley said that appended to an office consolidation of these orders would be two others relating to atomic energy.

When the bill came before the house, there would be ample opportunity for discussion of any or all of the orders to be continued by the bill and the ministers of the several departments concerned would be prepared to answer questions.

Mr. Ilisley said the time was not yet appropriate for the complete removal of controls. While some progress had been made in expanding peacetime production and while the flow of output was gathering momentum, production in a number of important fields had not yet overtaken the high level of demand.

HE CONTINUED: "Moreover, the consequences of the war are still very apparent in external markets. World-wide shortages of basic materials and foodstuffs limit the supplies of a number of goods available in Canada.

"On the one hand, they mean extraordinarily large and urgent demands for Canadian foodstuffs, raw materials, and other goods and, on the other hand, they limit the supplies of such imported basic commodities as sugar, vegetable oils, tin, and steel.

"While the government has been moving as promptly as conditions have warranted in removing controls, there can be little doubt that an immediate removal of all remaining controls would have very serious and undesirable consequences.

A possible indication of the trend the main debate on controls may take came when Mr. Ilisley referred to the consequences if rentals controls were removed and was greeted by a chorus of boos from the Progressive Conservative benches.

MR. ILISLEY retorted hotly that "anyone booing is just living apart from the facts."

He said that if controls over rentals and evictions were removed at present it was "clear enough that rents would rise sharply and that evictions would be numbered in the tens of thousands."

He added: "The results of a sudden removal of price and other controls over such commodities as sugar and vegetable oils, where external prices are high and supplies difficult to obtain, must be equally apparent. Prices would not only rise sharply but distribution would be uneven and disorderly and the needs of many citizens could not be met."

"I do not suggest that we would be faced with an uncontrollable inflation on the central European or Chinese pattern. That obviously is not the case. Production in this country has increased too much for that sort of thing, and we did not, during the war, suffer disorganization and destruction in our domestic economy."

"I DO SAY, however, that we would have a sudden and marked increase in our price level and cost-of-living which would rapidly carry us toward the notably higher level of prices prevailing in the United States."

"One can readily imagine how an abrupt and substantial rise in living costs would contribute to an unsettled state of industrial relations and to delays and interruptions in the production of goods which are so eagerly demanded."

"It is not difficult to appreciate

EASY DOES IT: Firemen, aided by ropes and long ladders, carefully lift Philip Clayburne from a Compton, Calif., drainage ditch. Clayburne, a hospitalized war veteran, fell from a bridge over the ditch during a morning walk. He suffered minor injuries.

the hardship and reduction in living standards that would result for the many families whose incomes are relatively fixed, wage earners, school teachers, while collar workers, pensioners and so on.

"That there would be profiteering and speculation in the necessities of life can be taken for granted."

"AND IT IS AN absolute certainty that many prices, after rising suddenly, would fluctuate widely and later on decline perhaps as abruptly as they went up."

Mr. Ilisley instanced what happened in the United States when price controls were removed. In seven months the official cost-of-living index jumped 20 points—from 32 per cent over the pre-war level to 52 per cent over that level.

The food component of that index rose by 26 points during the same seven months and the general level of wholesale prices, which had been 40 per cent over the pre-war level, was 76 per cent over that level this January and had not declined since. The prices of beef, pork, lamb and butter had shown some "remarkable gyrations" in the United States following decontrol. Whatever else it may be, that was not a picture of orderly conditions. The price of raw cotton had gone up, then declined, but the price of fabrics had risen "very substantially."

He added: "While no one would suggest that Canadian consumers like the price increase that it has been necessary to authorize in this country, it must surely be clear that the immediate removal of emergency economic controls would involve much greater price increases, widely fluctuating markets, and opportunities for speculation and exploitation which ought to be apparent to anyone who takes the trouble to examine the factual background of our present position."

MR. ILISLEY SAID he could not answer in full detail what specific controls remained necessary but he recalled that the prices board in January published a specific list of goods and services still under price control. It was the government's policy to reduce that list further "as rapidly as conditions permit."

"But I cannot say," he added, "when it will be practicable to take the next step or what goods will be included."

"Even if I could, such an announcement would be quite improper and would render impracticable any effective control over the goods concerned. I cannot even say for sure that all goods now freed from price ceilings will remain controlled."

"THE TIMING of decontrol in the months ahead will be related to economic developments both at home and abroad. Production in Canada and in the United States now is expanding rapidly. In these circumstances, I believe that decontrol is likely to proceed quite rapidly but as I have emphasized it is the government's intention to avoid disorderly price fluctuations and confused markets which abrupt abandonment of all controls would be certain to produce."

Coast Racketeers Given Warning

VANCOUVER, March 21, (CP)—Gamblers and racketeers got a warning yesterday — prosecutions will follow the present police commission inquiry into vice conditions here.

"THIS WHOLE situation will be placed before the attorney-general," said Mayor G. G. McGeer, commission chairman. "And don't make any mistake about that," he told Gordon Scott, former city prosecutor, who resigned early in the year.

The warning came after the newly appointed Police Chief Walter Mulligan gave a detailed report on vice conditions under the regime of Chief Constable A. G. McNeill, dismissed during the recent police shakeup.

CHIEF MULLIGAN testified he found gambling establishments running "wide open," and that police officers not on vice squads who tried to do something about it were told to "leave the situation alone."

Made Meter Reader Mad

Woodchuck Celebrates By Widespread Biting

DEARBORN, Mich., March 21, (AP)—Mrs. Alma Wilson opened her front door and in trudged a large woodchuck.

SHE NUGGED THE ANIMAL with her foot and it "barked" at her. Then it took after her son Stuart, four, who leaped on a couch.

Finally, the woodchuck wandered into the basement and Mrs. Wilson slammed the door.

Police arrived to find in the basement an extremely angry meter reader, Frank Newwood.

Mrs. Wilson said it seemed useless to warn Newwood because "he would think it silly to be afraid."

WHILE NEWWOOD WAS READING the meter, the woodchuck popped out of a coal bin and bit him.

A dog catcher lured the animal away with cookies and took it to the dog pound.

The woodchuck bit him, too.

Conference

Minister V. M. Molotov, who wants a strong central government with a minimum of power left to the States, did not speak. He said he would reserve his presentation for a couple of days.

Marshall demanded that the process of establishing a German government get underway "immediately" so that a German state which could carry out the peace treaty now being drafted could be brought into being.

THE MINISTERS unanimously agreed to invite representatives of Austria to Moscow so, as Marshall said, "the council can make every effort to complete the Austrian treaty here."

After Foreign Secretary Bevin had presented in detail his views on the future German government, Marshall presented his opinion.

Marshall outlined a three-step process for the establishment of a central German government, and entirely from "external pressures." Mundt asked Acheson to define those "external pressures."

"Or should I name them?" Mundt asked. "The congress and the people do not have access to classified documents and I would not reveal anything from them. But, having visited Turkey a little over a year ago, I know directly what those pressures are."

It was at that point that Acheson defined Soviet demands for participation in the defence of the Dardanelles as an "external pressure."

Acheson also promised to reveal publicly the information on Greece and Turkey which was contained in a mysterious "black book" given to members of congress.

ACHESON ALSO said "other claims" have been made against Turkey by the Soviet Union and various Soviet Republics.

Mundt told Acheson he thought he knew why "we are being asked to go into Turkey."

"The fundamental reason is that the Soviet neighbor to the north is conducting a war of nerves," Mundt said, "pressing for a favorable decision on the straits and certain eastern provinces. The Turks are maintaining this huge army because of the war of nerves."

Is that a fair statement?" Acheson said he did not want to comment on that. But he conceded that the maintenance of a big army had strained Turkey's economy.

Land Survivors Of Shipwreck

FALMOUTH, Cornwall, Eng., March 21 (AP)—Eleven survivors of the 454-ton British motorship Fama, which sank in the Bay of Biscay yesterday with a loss of five lives, were landed here today by the British steamship Empire Plover, which answered the Fama's SOS. The dead were the Fama's owner, William Cecil Lowe, and his wife, and James Hunter, who were en route to Cyprus to establish a shipping company, and two crew members.

short, a plane finally spotted the stranded pair.

The pilot dropped a note asking what was needed.

When he circled and swooped low again Loken held an empty gas drum over his head.

About four hours later the plane returned and dropped a full drum of gasoline within about ten feet of the truck. In addition he dropped canned foods, cigarettes and a copy of The Edmonton Bulletin, T1N.

"WE WERE sure glad to read what was going on in the outside world," said Loken.

In making the final lap of the trip the mildly-frostbitten pair told of having had to burn the wood of their trailer sleigh to keep warm.

Another angle was the interesting art of making coffee with the aid of a blowtorch.

AS A DIVERSION from their worries the pair witnessed several Siberian timber wolves put on a show of speed in pursuit of an almost exhausted moose.

"The big thing is we got here," said Dussault. They had a cargo of motor and truck engines which were overhauled by Edmonton Motors, and are now on their way to Yellowknife with Dussault, at the wheel of the same truck.

Detained here on business, Loken will leave for Yellowknife by plane on Friday.

BIRKS traditional policy of reducing prices immediately with the reduction of market prices at source results in many savings to you.

Diamonds are lower due to the world prices being reduced 5% to 15%, depending on size and quality. Although our present stock is substantial, each item on hand has been repriced without waiting for new stock.

Sterling prices are down . . . since the market price of silver bullion is lower, our craftsmen can produce teaware, table pieces, flatware and dresserware at lower cost. We are not waiting for new production before we reduce the price to you . . . every item of our own manufacture has been repriced at the new lower replacement cost.

Moots Two Sittings Of Exchequer Court

Mr. Justice Gerald O'Connor of the exchequer court of Canada, sitting in the court house Thursday stated that sittings of the court may be held twice yearly in future instead of the single sittings that has been the custom in recent years.

He made this remark while thanking George H. Steer, K.C., Edmonton barrister, who had welcomed him on his return to Edmonton, and to his first sitting in the province since his appointment to the bench.

Mr. Justice O'Connor was appointed to the bench about two years ago, and formerly was a partner in the law firm of Griesbach, O'Connor and O'Connor.

He is hearing an appeal by the Great Western Garment Co., against a decision of the Dominion salaries controller under the wartime salaries control order.

HUNTINGTON, W. V., March 21.—(CP)—For the second straight day "Junior" hopped into bed with Albert Cremeans this morning and laid an egg.

"From now on," said Cremeans, "Junior gets locked out of the house."

He explained that the hen scratches at the kitchen door almost every morning. When admitted, she heads for the basement and lays an egg.

Yesterday she scrambled the routine by climbing the stairs to the second floor and laying in the bed.

Banff No Cure For Arthritis

Banff is no better than any other place in Alberta for arthritis, Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, told the Legislative Assembly Wednesday while estimates for his department were under review.

ARTHUR WRAY (Ind.-S.C.-Banff-Cochrane) asked the minister if any provision had been made that a subsidy might permit patients to receive treatment at Banff. He asked if any provision had been made for such payments.

"There has been no such provision," Dr. Cross said. Elmer E. Roper (C.C.F.-Edmonton) protested that the minister's answer was "not elaborate" and asked for a fuller statement.

The health minister pointed out that doctors at Banff must give the same treatment for this affliction as doctors in all other parts of Alberta. He indicated that the waters at that point might ease pain, but would not cure.

Later Dr. Cross was questioned on the possibilities of building a special sanitarium for the treatment of tubercular mental patients, but indicated that shortage of materials made such construction out of the question.

TUBERCULAR mental patients are isolated at present, Dr. Cross said.

He pointed out that such mental patients must be restricted, and must be treated both as insane and as tubercular. This would call for a very special type of construction, particularly to provide sun porches or sun yards.

Food Prices Rise Little in Canada

By VICTOR MACKIE

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau OTTAWA, March 21.—Results of a second survey of comparative prices in Canada and the United States conducted during February by the wartime prices and trade board shows Canadian food prices as having increased little as price controls were modified over the month.

IN BOTH CANADA and the United States some seasonal price changes occurred. Eggs declined in both, and butter dropped in the United States.

But the variation in prices between the average Canadian and average American food purchases is very much the same as it was when the board made its first survey in January. The price advantage remains with Canada, an official of the board declared.

In clothing the men's wear prices were the same or slightly cheaper in Canada in January. Slight increases were recorded during February.

PRICES OF WOMEN'S wear had started to climb in both Canada and the United States in February, but Canadian women during the month could purchase garments at very similar prices to those paid across the line.

American women can still buy stockings cheaper.

"The very similar price levels for commonly available garments for both men and women is surprising because American clothing has customarily been cheaper than Canadian," the officials said.

Canada Queried On Royal Romance

By CHESTER BLOOM

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau OTTAWA, March 21.—Though officials of Canada's department of external affairs are maintaining silence on the subject, it is reliably reported here that King George VI through his representative in Canada made an informal inquiry whether Canadians would approve an engagement of Princess Elizabeth to marry Philip Mountbatten, former Prince of Greece, Philip recently denounced his title as heir to the Greek throne and became a naturalized British subject.

IT IS UNDERSTOOD that the inquiry to Canada was merely in line with the growing practice of consultation among all the British Commonwealth or any question of foreign policy.

The inquiry, it is understood, was made in an informal manner, and an equally informal favorable reply was made, according to a reliable informant. Such informal consultations as a matter of fact, are continually in progress among the United Kingdom and other equal members of the Commonwealth in that respect. The inquiry, it is understood, was more or less of a formality.

Declares Canada Slumps Morally

TORONTO, March 21 (CP)—Rev. Dr. J. R. Hutchins, secretary of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service of the United Church of Canada, said in an address prepared for delivery Wednesday at the board's annual meeting that "Canada has slumped morally" although it "has not reached its lowest point."

He said the gravity of the moral crisis was revealed in such trends as increases in illegitimate births, abortions, divorces, venereal diseases and sales of contraceptives. All these rates in Canada were at new record highs, so also were beverage alcohol sales and arrests for drunkenness.

$92,800 in Cellar Puzzles Police

PHILADELPHIA, March 21. —(AP)—How $92,800 in new bills got into the cellar of a $75-a-week bookkeeper still puzzled police yesterday. Benjamin Lieberman reported discovery of the money in a cardboard box when he went to the basement for an electric light bulb last week. Police said many people have written letters claiming the money, but added there have been no clues indicating who put the box of $10, $20 and $50 bills in the cellar or when.

The Case of the Indians

It is scarcely surprising to learn that India's representations to the United Nations against the treatment of her nationals in the South African province of Natal should have had repercussions in other Dominions. Now it is learned that the Indian government will take up the question of Indians' status in Canada and Australia by direct approach to those countries.

Consider the case of British Columbia, where residents are loosely described as "Hindus" without the franchise. Otherwise the Indian government's representations are not far from reality in this country, as there are only some 1,000 Indian nationals in a total population of eleven and a half millions. In Australia the proportion is 3,448 in a population of six and a half millions.
No doubt this at least partly explains why the Indian government has not pressed these cases with the same vigor as in South Africa, where the proportion was 277,000 in a population of two millions of Europeans.

The question of a White Canada is apparently not involved in the representations to be made at Ottawa. The point at issue is whether Indians already here shall be allowed to become full-fledged citizens, and permitted to vote; and whether similar treatment is to be accorded to others, if others are allowed to come. So far as known Canada's right to exclude further immigration is not questioned.

Not a very good case can be made out against granting full citizenship rights to Indians—or people from any other country—who have been allowed, or who are in future allowed, to take up permanent residence in the Dominion. The weight of argument is on the other side. Any person who is good enough to be admitted to permanent residence should be good enough to be granted citizenship in full.

Or, stating it in the positive way, no one should be allowed to enter Canada to reside here permanently unless he or she is considered fit for citizenship status. It can even be suggested with sound reason that foreigners who fail to take out citizenship papers within a reasonable number of years should be told to go whence they came.

Twelve Miles a Minute

Group Captain Donaldson of the RAF thinks he can fly from San Francisco to New York in three hours and forty minutes. He is going to try it. To succeed, his jet-plane will have to maintain an average speed of about 700 miles per hour—nearly 12 miles a minute—over the 2,500 mile run.

If this seems a large order, nobody is better qualified than Capt. Donaldson to judge the possibilities of success. He has already travelled 616 miles an hour in England. And at the end of the flight said he hadn't really let the plane "go"
—perhaps because he was afraid of over-shooting the coast of the island and landing in the sea.

With the continent before him when he takes off from the Golden Gate that danger can be ignored, for his gas supply will run low by the time he gets to the place with the opposite name.

The present record from Frisco to Haarlem, of around six hours, was made a few weeks ago,
and was properly regarded by aviation men as phenomenal, but also as prophetic of still faster travelling. If Capt. Donaldson does it in two-thirds of the time, they will have to ransack
the dictionary for new words to tell the laymen what to look for next.

Truman's Long Lasso

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

Winston Churchill is delighted because President Truman proposes to interfere in Greece and Turkey, with $400,000,000 and an unknown number of American troops.
Well might the old war-horse be delighted. For, superficially, it represents a triumph for Churchillian schemes.

NOBODY KNEW better than Churchill that the old British Empire strategy of the "life line to India" was undone.

India—at the far end of the "lifeline"—had given British imperialism a simple choice: "either under the rope which holds us to you in a colonial capacity or we will cut it clean away."

Moreover, mistaken British policy had tied the so-called "lifeline" not to buoys capable of holding a lifeline up, but rather to deadweight stones that tended to drag it down.

It was tied up with Fascist dictatorships in Portugal and Spain;
the tarnished, obsolete monarchies in Italy, Greece, and Egypt; the feudal lords and chieftains in that chunk of land that really belongs to no continent.

In every one of those countries
there were explosive social forces pushing up from below which threatened to blast the pegs to which the British Empire "lifeline" had been tied.

light at the lasso trick performed by President Truman.

No cowboy ever tossed a lariat with more skill than Mr. Truman threw his—clean across two oceans.

The same considerations which led Mr. Truman to toss his long rope over the horns of Greece and Turkey will surely apply soon in larger powers. We shall soon see British power out of Palestine and we shall surely see American troops in there, too.

THE REAL SUFFERER from the Truman lasso trick is not Russia,
Greece, Turkey, but the United Nations.

Whatever else the Truman move has done, it has cut the ground from under the set-up of the United Nations.

Article 42 of the United Nations Charter plainly provides for the division of the world into agreed defence zones. Those zones were to be arranged by the United Nations organization, as an organization of Palestine and we shall surely see American troops in there, too.

It's a poor rule that won't work two ways. Hence I think Mr. Truman has set an extremely bad precedent for the United Nations. If Russia, for instance, takes a leap out of the same book and simply moves into a new zone of power—regardless of the wishes of the United Nations—the dangers are obvious.

NOTWITHSTANDING such dangers—which should be obvious to anyone—I do not agree with those who say that world war three is inevitable because of the Truman move.

Obviously the short range danger is great. It is always dangerous to walk right up to a really hard-boiled character and to flourish a chip on your shoulder, and that is precisely what the United States is doing to Russia. But it is a hundred to one that Russia will not take the dare.

BUT I DO NOT think that British imperialists, like Mr. Churchill, are going to laugh very long at the results of the substitution of the U.S. lasso for the British lifeline.

The Americans, too, are going to learn the most crucial lesson of all these times:

That is, it is a simple and relatively easy thing to stop military aggression by Russia, but it is going to prove an altogether different thing to stop the spread of socialism.

In backward countries the quickest most certain way to guarantee the extension of radical power is to replace reactionary right wing governments by really free democracies.

So there are going to be plenty of astonished American interventionists when they discover that far from having "stopped" socialism, their government's intervention will surely facilitate it in Greece.

U.S. and Palestine

Impolitic and badly timed as was his charge against the President, Mr. Bevin has reason on his side in complaining that a Government cannot "give advice and make demands, as Washington has freely and repeatedly done on the Palestine question, unless it is ready to assume responsibility for the policy it insists upon. How far were we ready to underwrite and enforce partition or any other solution?"

The British decision to turn over the mandate to the United Nations will impose on this country a larger share of responsibility for Palestine than we have been willing thus far to bear.

Society and Liquor

BY HARPER PROWSE, MLA

Much as one can find evidence to support the contention of some that alcohol is a "veritable elixir of life" one can find a great deal of evidence to show that alcohol is, to some men and women, their greatest enemy. Much has been written in these post-war days about the "problem drinker." Some of it has been scientific analysis, much of it has been sheer sentimental bosh.

So far doctors and psychiatrists have failed to decide for certain what makes some people alcoholics. But most scientists today are convinced that often alcoholism is at least the symptom of some physical or mental disorder, if not a disease in itself. But this refers to the rather rare "chronic" alcoholics. Our problem, our social problem, is with the more common class of public nuisance—the common drunk, who, when he gets behind the wheel of a high-powered automobile becomes something far more sinister.

WE CAN WELL leave the "chronic alcoholic" to the doctors, just as we leave the pyromaniac, or firebug, to the psychiatrist and the police. The common drunk is another matter. He is the product of our modern society—and the reason we have him is because we accept him and produce him. Most people who get drunk do it because they think it is the smart thing to do, and modern society is willing to accept drink-enough, especially in its milder stages, as a normal condition for people to achieve under certain circumstances.

In Alberta you are forbidden by law from wandering around in a beer-parlor. You can't play darts or the pin-ball machine nor anything else. You must sit down on your chair and drink. And when you have finished drinking you must get out to make room for somebody else who does want to drink. The small glasses promote the gulping of drinks while, strangely enough, the British "pint" encourages sipping.

In England the pub is the rendezvous for both men and women—and the presence of their own and other men's wives exerts an influence for temperance which nothing else can rival. In Edmonton and Calgary wives are carefully excluded from accompanying their husbands and if women want to drink they must huddle in the "women's bar" where they too must "sit and drink." In the smaller cities and towns, because of the fact that drinking is considered slightly immoral, only a brave or careless woman dares invade a beer-parlor.

How much better it would be if we could have the counterpart of the English "pub" with its "private," "saloon" and "public" bars, permitting people "to sit themselves out," substituted for our present "beverage rooms."

IN CIVILIZED countries the world over, from time immemorial, people have taken wine or beer with their meals. In Alberta even in our first class restaurants and hotel dining rooms this is forbidden by law. Wine, instead of being considered a pleasant constituent of a decent meal, is something to be bought by the jug and hidden outside of the dance-hall to be swigged between dances because it is a "cheap drink." Our people are denied the opportunity of learning to use it in its proper place or regarding it in its proper perspective. The answer is simple —let us provide laws which will permit the serving of light wines and beer with meals in restaurants and hotel dining rooms which come up to certain specified standards.

In other words let's stop being hypocritical about this thing called liquor and treat it sensibly.
Let us revoke the laws which are at present disregarded and laughed at to scorn. Let us stop forcing people to drink more than they want and drinking for drinking's sake alone. Let us give people an opportunity of acting like adult, sensible human beings—and let us turn the scorn of society and the full power of the law on the fool and the weak who selfishly prevents others from enjoying privileges to which they are entitled.

The Bulletin's Readers Say:

TAXATION "RACKET"

Editor, Bulletin—Years ago most of the national revenue used to be collected through the tariff. This was a tax on the consumer. The man with a family must pay more taxes than the single man because he had to buy more clothing.

Now if a family man was exempt on a salary of $3,000 per year,
the income tax can tax unnecessary profits away from corporate monopolies or overpaid individuals and provide greater security to the home makers of Canada.

H. E. NICHOLS blames our lack of "security" to the taxation racket. How can he reason in that way? Greater "security" for the children is supplied by "the family allowance" for the aged by "pensions" and now payment for expenses when sick. Those "securities" to human life are supplied to the helpless by the state because it taxes those who have the financial power to help. Why call taxation a racket or class its operations with those of Al Capone?

MLA for Spirit River
Legislative Assembly
Edmonton.

FREEDOM OF BELIEF

Editor, Bulletin—Your editorial of recent date re "Church Sick Unto Death" struck me as being inconsistent, to say the least.

Why deny this good, and apparently very sincere minister the same privileges accorded to all other members of the evangelic churches,
viz. to make the private interpretations of the scripture their rule of faith? Are not all the tenets and beliefs of members of these churches based solely upon the private interpretations of the Bible? That is, private opinion determines one's belief or unbelief. And is not this the cause of the dividing and subdividing of these evangelic churches into some 200 (some will say even 300) separate and distinct religious bodies all teaching different doctrines?

Truly has this good dissenting minister well expressed the condition of these churches as "sick unto death" meaning as I take it, in its deathbed.

AN EXPLANATION

Editor Bulletin—With reference to your press article reporting Elmer E. Roper's statement in the legislature, when he named me as an insurance agent that secured certain insurance with a school division, I wish to correct the very much exaggerated and incorrect statements that were made, and subsequently published. In the first place, who ever heard of any one getting fire insurance at such a ridiculously low rate of $1 per $1,000, to say nothing of the further incorrect .50c per $1,000.

One other matter which was entirely incorrect was the statement

Claims Accused Brandished Knife

Evidence that William L. O'Sullivan brandished a knife and said "he was going to knife somebody" was given in supreme court Thursday by Ole Christmann, a bartender in a city beer parlor, during the trial of O'Sullivan on a charge of wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm.

THE CHARGE against O'Sullivan arose out of a series of fights in a beer parlor in which Stanley Hernberg, Breton district resident, received five knife wounds, the most serious of which was on his left chest. The assault took place on Jan. 18 last.

At the conclusion of the crown's case Neil D. Maclean K.C., counsel for the accused, asked for dismissal on the charge on the ground that the evidence did not disclose intent, and that there was doubt that the accused had wielded a knife during the fracas. He said the wounds could have been caused by shattered glasses and broken bottles on the floor resulting from the fight. The application was refused by Mr. Justice C. C. Laurin.

Mr. Hernberg told the court he entered the beer parlor about 9 p.m. on the night of Jan. 18, and as he sat at a table the accused told him he "did not like the look of his face." Witness said "you do not have to look at it if you don't like it" whereupon the accused hit him knocking him to the ground.

WITNESS CAME off the ground swinging, and hit the accused, after which they were separated, and the witness went to the washroom. On his return the accused again started to fight, and the witness started to leave the beer parlor.

He said the accused followed him to the door, where they again engaged in a fight, and when separated Hernberg found that he was bleeding. The accused had left the beer parlor before the accused found he had been stabbed, but was brought back by eye-witnesses to the assault.

The hearing is continuing.

Canada Exports 35 Pct. of Output

OTTAWA, March 21. (CP)—W. F. Bull, head of the export section of Canada's trade department, said yesterday Canada was exporting 35 per cent of all her production. In some cases, such as newsprint, the ratio was as high as 80 per cent but in others it was as low as two per cent.

HE TOLD THE Common's banking committee that in the last month for which figures were available, export permits had only been refused to 736 out of 17,154 applications.

The committee is considering a bill to continue export and import controls where necessary to ensure adequate domestic supply.

G. R. Marshall, vice-president of the Canadian Exporters Association, called for an end to export controls and said that Canada could send out more token shipments of goods to widen her export markets.

Resigns Council

CALGARY, March 21. (CP)—The resignation of George E. McLellan, executive director of the Council of Social Agencies for the past two years, was accepted Wednesday night at a meeting of the board of directors of the council.

Girl, Suitor Held For Death Blast

SANTA ANA, Calif., March 21. (AP)—The 17-year-old daughter of a wealthy Los Angeles finance company owner and her boyfriend were jailed here on bookings of murder, growing out of an explosion last Saturday which blew apart her father's yacht, killing both parents.

HELD WITHOUT charge were Beulah Louise Overell and George Gollum of Los Angeles.

Their arrests were announced by Orange County sheriff Jim Musick, who said dynamite and a time clock were found aboard the yacht, which blew up Saturday night at a Newport Beach dock.

Walter E. Overell, 62, and his wife, Beulah, 51, died in the explosion.

At the county jail, Miss Overell, blonde and blue-eyed, told newspaper men she and Gollum were engaged and had planned to be married April 30. She refused to discuss whether her parents had objected to her betrothal.

Want Gouzenko Appear in U.S.

WASHINGTON, March 21. (CP)—Representative J. Parnell Thomas (Rep.-N.J.), chairman of the House of Representatives committee on American affairs, said yesterday Canadian authorities have been approached on the possibility of having Igor Gouzenko appear before the committee. Gouzenko is the former cipher clerk in the Russian Embassy in Ottawa whose revelations precipitated the Canadian espionage investigation and trials of last year.

Rangers to Guard Pacific Frontier

VANCOUVER, March 21. (CP)—The Pacific Coast Rangers—a band of tough, seasoned woodsmen—once more will be able to guard the Dominion's vulnerable Pacific frontier.

FACED WITH THE threat of invasion by Japan's marauding hordes during the Second World War, military authorities—handicapped by their ignorance of local conditions—formed the Rangers

by enlisting the aid of veteran bushmen to whom the secret trails and gullies along British Columbia's coastline were "home."

Final stamp of approval was placed on the Rangers at Ottawa on Jan. 10, when Charles Foulkes, chief of the general staff, announced that volunteer frontiersmen in Canada's northern and coastal regions would be organized by the defence department as expert marksmen and guides ready to meet national emergencies.

Try "Quisling"

LONDON, March 21. (Reuters)—Trial of Dr. Joseph Tiso, former "Quisling" president of the Nazi puppet state of Slovakia, and of Ferdinand Dmcarovsky and Sano Mach, his ministers of foreign affairs and interior respectively, has closed. Moscow Checked On Canada Spies

MONTREAL, March 21. (CP)—A king's bench court jury trying Dr. Raymond Boyer, Montreal scientist, on a conspiracy charge heard Igor Gouzenko testify yesterday that in 1944 an "assistant to military intelligence headquarters in Moscow" came to the American continent "to check the spy system in Canada, the United States and Mexico."

GOUZENKO also testified that in August, 1945, the Russian head of the "spy system" in Canada sought from a Canadian "agent" methods of counter-espionage work here and organization of "federal and provincial" counter-espionage.

Interest also was shown, he said, in the most feasible methods of "illegal entry" into a country and in "bringing to light, channels of English government influence on Canadian foreign policy."

Dr. Boyer, wartime chemist for the national research council, is accused of having conspired to communicate information unlawfully to Russia.

High Standards For Army Officers

OTTAWA, March 21. (CP)—The Canadian Army officer of today must be not only a militarist but a bit of a historian, geographer and have a knowledge of world affairs if he aspires to be the general of tomorrow.

ARMY HEADQUARTERS disclosed this yesterday in announcing that during the second week of March, 125 active force officers—from captains to colonels and from every Canadian military command—wrote entrance examinations for the military staff college at Kingston, Ont.

Out of the 125, the army said only 40 would be selected to attend the 12-month college course. The successful ones will probably be those who, besides giving the right answers about army administration, military law and like, give comprehensive replies to questions they found on their exam papers.

May Support Claim To British Earldom

LONDON, March 21. (AP)—The Daily Mail said yesterday that a letter from India may support the claim of a San Francisco newspaper man to the Earldom of Berkeley, considered extinct with the death of the eighth earl in 1942. R. F. Berkeley of San Francisco, wrote Debretts Peerage (a who's who of British nobility) in 1936 saying he thought he might be connected with the branch of the family that emigrated to India in the early 19th century. The Daily Mail said, but little attention was paid to the inquiry at the time.

Ask Govt. Action In House Problem

TORONTO, March 21. (CP)—Federal government action to end housing difficulties was urged today by the board of Evangelism and Social Service of the United Church of Canada.

"Housing in Canada from coast to coast reveals a vast lag in housing in urban and rural communities, in growing centres and hinterlands, in mining towns, lumber towns, port towns, residential centres and summer resorts, in jails, asylums, hospitals, infirmaries, in shantytowns, tenements, basements and attics, business blocks and downtown zones," said Rev. Dr. Hugh Robson of Vancouver, associate secretary of the board.

Krupps' Siege Gun To Be Destroyed

HAMBURG, March 21. (Reuters)—Krupps' 31-inch siege gun—largest in the world—will be destroyed in Essen next week, it was reported yesterday. A number of other heavy guns also will be destroyed. The siege gun was found in a bomb-damaged workshop and was one of three produced for the campaign against Russia. Weighing 1,300 tons, it has a barrel 131 feet long and fires shells weighing seven tons a distance of 22 miles.

Says Wheat Bill "To Head Off CCF"

OTTAWA, March 21. — (CP) — Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader in the senate, yesterday pictured the government's wheat bill as a vehicle for Agriculture Minister Gardiner's desire to "head off CCF propaganda in Saskatchewan" and cried, "If he thinks this will carry Saskatchewan, he's wrong."

BUT HIS OBJECTIONS to a measure to give the federal wheat board continuing power to market wheat and meet the four-year British contract, were met by the statements of two Liberal senators.

Frederick Johnston of Saskatchewan and A. L. Beaudin of Manitoba, that the bill, already approved by a heavy Commons majority, merited support.

Senator Johnston, in moving second reading of the bill, said the legislation was necessary to ensure the farmers a stabilized price and protect them from a slump.

IT MIGHT BE possible, he said, to get a higher price from the United Kingdom than the $1.35 a bushel, but rehabilitation of the British market was of great importance to Canada and wheat at less than world prices would assist Britain to get back on her feet.

Twenty-Ounce Baby Has "Good Chance"

CHICAGO, March 21. — (AP) — A baby born 4½ months prematurely and weighing only 20 ounces was given "a good chance to live" yesterday.

The baby, a boy, was born Wednesday to Mrs. Josephine Watson, 34.

Hint Substitute Named

LONDON, March 21. — (AP) — The Rome correspondent of the magazine Catholic Fireside reported last night that an alternative Pope in a neutral country was chosen during the war for fear the Nazis occupying Rome would kidnap Pope Pius.

IN ROME an informed Vatican source described the report as without foundation.

The magazine, published in London, describes itself as "the Catholic magazine for the home."

"It was considered at one time highly probable that the SS (Elite Guard) would attempt to arrest the Holy Father," the correspondent, August L. Francis, wrote.

"In view of this danger a certain prelate had been appointed by the Pope who would automatically have become Pope in his place in case of his arrest."

"Thus the German SS men would have gone out against Pope Pius and would only have taken Father Eugenio Pacelli, a simple priest, into custody. His successor would already be reigning in a certain neutral country where he was in readiness."

THE CORRESPONDENT said the name of the alternate Pope and his residence could "not be revealed."

The Vatican source, stationed there throughout the Nazi occupation of Rome, said such a plan had never been suggested. He added that the only way to replace a Pope was by elections after a Pontiff's death.

Kiplingcotes Run Despite Deep Snow

LEEDS, England, March 21. — (AP) — Come snow or high water, the Kiplingcotes Derby always is run on the third Thursday of March.

It's England's oldest horse race—a steeplechase of more than four miles—and it's been run every year since 1539.

Frederick Stephenson, 36-year-old farmer, and his seven-year-old horse were the only entries today and Stephenson said "I had to dismount twice and lead my horse on foot because of the snow," piled as high as four feet in spots.

But he finished the course. The prize About £5 ($20).

He's Hoping, Anyway

Potato-Sized Nugget May Go to Sergeant

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21. — (AP) — Theo A. Elbert, a San Francisco housepainter, made contact by telephone last night with two Yukon mining brothers he grubstaked several years ago, and his hopes arose that the "half a gold nugget as big as an Idaho potato" they said they have for him might pan out after all.

The brothers, Chuck and Pete Schwerdt, learned through an Associated Press story that Elbert had been located in San Francisco, and asked the AP bureau here to have Elbert telephone them at the King Edward Hotel in Toronto.

Elbert, 31-year-old former army sergeant in the Yukon, talked over old times with the brothers and afterwards announced they were flying down to present him with "a surprise." They didn't say what it was, but Elbert presumed it was a chunk of gold as his share of their strike.

Pete Schwerdt sought Elbert's whereabouts through a letter to the Hotel New Yorker in New York City, saying the Schwerdts had struck it rich and wanted to reward Elbert with half of a big gold nugget.

Elbert was at first skeptical about the whole thing. Last night, after talking with the Schwerdts, his hopes were up.

Lieut. Kosaku Hazama, described as "a particularly vicious camp commandant," was given 15 years' hard labor. Most men in his camp, which had a death rate "very high for its population," were members of the Winnipeg Grenadiers.

Lt-Col. J. O. F. H. Orr of Vancouver was chief prosecutor.

HONORED AT FLYER DINNER: The above pictures were taken at the complimentary dinner tendered the Flyers Thursday night by the directors of the Edmonton Exhibition Association. At the top are those Flyers who performed "hat tricks" during the season, all of whom received sterling hats donated by Knowles Jewelers. From left to right are Stan Devick (1), Don Stanley (1), Bing Merluk (3), Herb Knowles (donor), Elmer Kreller (2), Billy Maher (2) and Bob Solinger (1). One of Kreller's two hats was earned by a five-goal effort against Regina here on Feb. 14. Jim Macdonald, who announced the winners, says that hats are being forwarded to Chuck McCullough and Lou Hauck of Regina and Grant Hall of Lethbridge, each of whom performed the trick once in the arena here. The lower photo shows Mayor Harry D. Ainlay after presenting Radio Station CKUA's "best rookie" trophy to Cy Thomas, Flyer left winger, who was voted the most valuable rookie in the senior circuit by newspaper and radio sport writers in the five league cities.

Coleman Drops First In West Final Series

VERNON, B.C., March 21. (CP)—Notre Dame Hounds took a one game lead in the Western Canada intermediate finals here last night when they flashed their way to a 5-4 victory over the Coleman, Alta., Grands. Second game of the best-of-five series will be played here on Saturday night.

Grabbing a 2-1 lead in the opening chapter, the youthful college boys from Wilcox, Sask., made the score 4-2 in the sandwich session. In the final frame, Coleman outscored the Hounds 2-1 but couldn't notch the tying tally.

FLASHY BUZZ MELLOR of the Hounds dippy-dodded his way through for two pretty goals while linemate Bill Hryciuk also counted a brace. Leo Mulhall registered the singleton to complete the Notre Dame scoring.

Centre Don Anderson paced the Albertans converting the hat trick while Husky Duke Kwasnie tallied once.

Buzz Mellor scored the opening goal of the game at the five minute mark as he came from behind the Coleman net to poke the disc in the corner. Bill Hryciuk took a relay from Bert Elliott and but Notre Dame two goals upon a lovely backhand shot. Forty seconds later, Coleman made the scoring column when Dan Anderson lit the light after a flashing solo dash.

IN THE SECOND period Duke Kwasnie ripped in a backhand shot to tie the score at 2-2. Leo Mulhall snared a pass from Jim Hanson to easily beat Dave Pow with Notre Dame's third counter. Buzz Mellor scored his second goal, when, assisted by Bill Hryciuk, he stickhandled the disc into the twine to give the Hounds a 4-2 lead.

In the third period, Bill Hryciuk copped his second counter, giving the hounds a three goal edge. Two seconds later, Coleman made the score 3-4 but the Hounds, with Cy Huck giving a great net-minding display, kept their edge.

There were 14 penalties handed out in the game with six going to Coleman and the rest to the college squad.

COLEMAN—Pow: Joyce, Kwasnie; Mozell, Beigun, Anderson, Holland, Fraser; Kovack, Kryczka, Sube; Antonenko, Pavlus.

Journal Team Beats Bulletin

The Edmonton Journal hockeyists earned the privilege of ducking off the Sid Vernon trophy for at least a year—and it stands nearly four feet high—when they tackled a 5-2 shellacking on the fleet, shiftily Edmonton Bulletin puch-chasers at the arena last night.

Last night's win marked the third straight victory for the Journal crew in the best three out of five series. The scores in the other two games were 9-6 and 8-7.

Both teams looked like hockey players. The Bulletin was decked out in Canadians' sweaters and The Journal wore the EAC uniforms.

Bill Drever, former EAC goalie, was between the posts for the Journal.

The Journal broke through for a 3-1 lead in the first period, increased it to 4-1 in the second and each team tallied once in the closing frame.

Jack Thornburn sparked the Journal attack with two goals, with Johnny Williams, Art Gittens and Bob Willington also bulging the twine. Jamieson and Ed Frey counted for The Bulletin.

At the conclusion of the game Sid Vernon presented the cup to Ernie Smalian, captain of the victors.

BULLETIN—Wilson, A. Frey, Barry, Payne, Letain, Jamieson, E. Frey, Jamieson, Burchell, Gauthier.

JOURNAL—Drever, Zalesky, Smalian, Willington, Thornburn, McDeunald, D. Kilburn, Williams, Gittens, Alexander, Porter, Cameron, Lang.

Officials—Colin Kilburn and Ray Barry.

FIRST PERIOD: 1. Bulletin, E. Frey (Jamieson); 2. Journal, Thornburn; 3. Journal, Thornburn; 4. Journal, Williams (Zalesky). Penalties—Barry and Thornburn.

Amateur Ring Stars Reach North Finals

Eddie Kobellka Steals Spotlight In Losing Effort

Unique styles, a lot of wild-swinging and considerable ring science were on display at the USO hall last night as amateur boxers fought their way to the Northern Alberta finals.

The winners of tonight's card will travel to Cardston, where the Alberta finals will be held.

Officials had hoped to run off all the bouts in one night, but due to a heavy post entry, they were forced to stage two cards.

LITTLE EDDIE KOBELLKA won't be with the boys when they go down south because he didn't quite make the grade, but last night he stole the show and won the hearts of the capacity crowd.

Eddie had the misfortune of drawing Morton Campbell, a rangy young fellow about six inches taller and with a decided advantage in reach.

Morton seemed to be everywhere Eddie went. The little fellow artfully ducked and weaved and covered up like a veteran—and on one occasion slipped to the canvas where he enjoyed a five-count respite.

HE DREW LAUGHTER and praise from the fans as he courageously fought back with both hands, but he was no match for Campbell, Morton, who actually only outweighted Eddie by three pounds, proved to be a real sport, however, and held back a lot of his heavy artillery.

Campbell, who also fought in the last bout, gained the finals when he outpointed Louis O'Neill, another stocky youngster who lacked for reach. Campbell weighed 86 and O'Neill was three pounds heavier.

O'NEILL WAS awarded a split decision over Ken St. Peter in his first appearance. It was one of the best bouts on the program and both boys mixed freely.

Although there were no knock-outs, Maurice Escallier came within an ace of stopping Dan McAdie, Maurice, who kept his left waving in front of Don's face, unloaded a terrific right and caught his rival flush on the side of his head.

McAdie hit the deck like a bushel of spuds, but the "lights" soon went on again and he got up at the count of seven.

MCADIE WEATHERED the subsequent storm and came back strong in the closing round. Escallier weighed 125 and McAdie 124 1/2.

James McGregor, 133, and Morris Legris, also 133, gave a good account of themselves with McGregor emerging the victor.

Bill Cotes and Keith Randolph tossed leather thick and fast with Cotes getting in the cleaner punches. He was awarded the decision after a gory battle.

In other matches Allan Murray, 65, scored a clean-cut decision over Jerry Patula, 68; Gordon Riddell, 147, won by decision over Bill Dean in an interesting scrap, and Walter Kozak, 108, had a little too much class for Raymond Legrie, 112.

Blame Salary Disputes

Big Money Players Missing From Rosters of Mexican Clubs

MEXICO CITY, March 21 (AP)—Big-money players, at least eight of them imported from the United States last year, were notably missing Thursday from the roster of six Mexican baseball league clubs set to open the 1947 season March 27.

MAX LANIER, WHO FORMERLY pitched for St. Louis Cardinals, Lou Klein, who held the shortstop berth for the Cards before jumping to the Mexican league, Fred Martin, ex-Cardinal pitcher, and Danny Gargiella, Ace Adams, Harry Feldman, George Hausmann and Roy Zimmerman, formerly of New York Giants, were not included.

Reliable sources said the eight could not agree with baseball boss Jorge Pasquel on salaries.

LANIER ON WAY TO TALK SALARY

Denton, N.C., March 21. (CP)—Chunky Max Lanier, ace of the St. Louis Cardinal pitching staff until he jumped to the Mexican baseball league last season, is en route to Mexico to iron out salary differences with boss Jorge Pasquel, his wife reported Thursday. It had been reported that Pasquel cut salaries on many of the Americans by as much as 50 per cent.

YANKEES APPEAR TO BE SLIPPING

By Gayle Talbot

TAMPA, Fla., March 21. (AP)—It has been 22 years since a Yankee ball club finished in the second division, but those studying Bucky Harris' team this spring say it might easily happen again if Joe Dimaggio's heel doesn't get well in a hurry.

Without their star centrefielder, it becomes painfully apparent, the Yanks are not going far.

For the first time since anyone can recall, the Bombers hadn't a 300 hitter last year.

THEY HAVE a couple of proven pitchers in Spud Chandler and Floyd Revens, who won 20 and 16 games respectively last year. After that their mound corps drops off.

Rival club owners have long memories, and they aren't jumping over themselves to help the rich team from the Bronx that humiliated them for so many years.

Perhaps the best illustration of the fallen estate of the Yanks is the fact that Harris has just started giving 36-year-old George McQuinn a trial at first base. McQuinn hit only 225 for the Athletics last year.

Pittsburg Ties New Haven Series

PITTSBURGH, March 21 (CP)—Pittsburgh Hornets stayed in the American Hockey League playoff hunt by defeating New Haven Ramblers 6-3 last night to deadlock their best-of-three series at a game apiece. Lemieux, Wilson, Bodnar, Hill, Langelie and Benson scored for the winners while White, Patrick and Reed were the New Haven marksmen.

Leafs, Wings Start Series On March 26

MONTREAL, March 21. — (CP)—The dates and the teams determined, the National Hockey League is awaiting only the formal completion of its regular schedule before getting under way its annual prize attraction, the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Dates for the semi-final series between Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings were announced Thursday with the first game scheduled for Toronto March 26. The champion Montreal Canadiens will open their best-of-seven series at home against Boston Bruins March 25.

THIS IS THE LINEUP for the two semi-final series, with the last three games in each case to be played only as necessary:

Canadiens-Boston: At Montreal March 25 and 27, at Boston March 29, and April 1, at Montreal April 3, at Boston April 5, at Montreal April 8.

Toronto-Detroit: at Toronto March 26 and 29, at Detroit April 1 and 3, at Toronto April 5, at Detroit April 6, at Toronto April 8.

DATES FOR THE final playoff depend upon when the semi-finals end, but it was stated at League headquarters that if the preliminary and final series go the seven games limit the last game will be played April 24.

That will be a league record. The Leafs are newcomers to this years playoffs, replacing Chicago Black Hawks who bowed to Canadiens in the first round a year ago. Bruins drubbed Detroit in the semi-finals last year then lost 4-1 in games to Canadiens in the final.

WHILE CANADIENS and Toronto should be favorites for the final as a result of finishing one-two in the league standings, injuries may detract from their chances. In addition, Detroit and Boston have been red hot in the last month and may carry their fire into the playoffs.

DUCK SITUATION BECOMING WORSE

OTTAWA, March 21. (CP)—Canadian hunters needn't worry—they'll be able to go duck-hunting this fall despite a national audubon society proposal in Washington for a one-year moratorium on hunting of migratory fowl in North America.

However officials of the wild life protection division, mines and resources department, warn that the duck situation is becoming "rapidly worse."

The season "probably" will be shorter than last year and the "bag" reduced.

A HEAVY INCREASE in hunting these last three years, and unfavorable breeding season weather seriously cut into the duck population, said Dr. O. H. Hewitt of the wild life protection division.

Nevertheless the department feels it won't be necessary to eliminate hunting this year.

Canadians last year were permitted 12 ducks a day.

AT PRESENT the department is awaiting reports on the winter's bird survey, upon which to base the quotas and length of season for 1947. Annual regulations are announced in July.

The seriousness of the situation is shown in the fact that in January, 1946, there were an estimated 80,000,000 ducks in Canada compared with 105,000,000 for the corresponding period of the previous year. During the war when hunters were few, the duck population jumped to 140,000,000.

Last year's count of geese in Canada was approximately 1,500,000, a drop of some 500,000 from 1945.

WESTMOUNT: McNabb, Young, Weber, Rogers, McMillan, Baker.

Argue St. Michael's Can Not Be Stopped

TORONTO, March 21 (CP)—Among enthusiasts who plump for sectional favorites to take all the marbles in the junior playoffs, there seems a measure of pardon for supporters of Toronto St. Michael's college Majors.

They argue today that the Irish can't be stopped in the Memorial cup chase.

ST. MIKES HAVE just won their third straight junior OHA championship and besides establishing themselves as the most-feared junior squad in the east, they are rapidly building a reputation for Joe Primeau as one of the most successful of coaches.

With a "packed" club, sponsored by Toronto Maple Leafs of the National league, the Majors were considered a cinch for the OHA crown before the first whistle this fall.

They knocked off Galt Red Wings in four straight games and now tackle Porcupine Composites in a best-of-five series opening here Saturday for the all-Ontario title.

LAST SPRING with only one good forward line, St. Mike's lost the Memorial cup to Winnipeg Monarchs in the final period in the final game of the best-of-seven series. Primeau attended to that weakness and evolved one of the best-balanced junior clubs to perform here in years.

St. Mike's figure they'll face Montreal Canadiens for the right to travel west in quest of the prized junior mug but they don't anticipate too much trouble. With the Monarchs already side-tracked in the western playoffs, the Irish expect to meet either Brandon Elks or Moose Jaw Canucks in the classic.

THE COLLEGIANS may not win the Canadian title but thoughts of many eastern experts are summed up by J. P. (Toronto Telegram) Fitzgerald who predicts "the team that can beat them will have to be class as the best of all-time best."

Portland Again Leading Seattle

PORTLAND, Ore., March 21 (AP)—Portland Eagles, making the winning goal of a substitute after the Seattle goalie was injured, defeated Seattle Ironmen 3-2 in the northern division Pacific Coast Hockey League playoffs last night.

The victory gave Portland a 2-1 edge in the best-of-seven final series. The fourth game will be played at Seattle Sunday.

PAT DESBIENS batted in a rebound in 15:04 of the final period past Bob Drainville, Seattle defenseman who took over the net after Goalie Nelson Little was struck in the eye.

Little, hit by the puck in a hard shot by Jack McDonald, was taken to a hospital for treatment. The game was delayed 15 minutes while Drainville donned the equipment.

Port Arthur Upsets Winnipeg Flyers 5-3

PORT ARTHUR, March 21, (CP)—Port Arthur Bearcats came through with a surprising 5-3 victory over Winnipeg Flyers here last night to even their best-of-five Western Canada senior hockey semi-final series 1-1. Bearcats dropped the first game 10-4.

Minus Don Raleigh, Don McRae and Clint Albright, Flyers weren't the same team that annihilated the Port Arthur squad in the opening game of the series. The home club took a 2-0 lead in the opening period, maintained their distance in the middle frame with the score standing 5-3 and held Winnipeg scoreless in the third.

THE WIN was particularly pleasing to Lakehead fans because after the first game Canadian Amateur Hockey Association officials cut the series down from a best-of-seven affair to a best-of-five, the theory being that after Winnipeg's overwhelming win in the opener the series would be one-sided all the way.

In turning the table on such speculations, Bearcats did what Lethbridge Native Sons almost accomplished Wednesday night in the western Canada junior semi-finals. Their series with Moose Jaw Canucks was cut to a best-of-five affair after Canucks ran wild to win 11-2 in the first game. Wednesday night the Saskatchewan team was barely able to eke out an 8-7 win.

THIRD GAME of the Winnipeg-Port Arthur series will be played in Winnipeg Saturday, with Flyers back at full strength with Raleigh, McRae and Albright all slated to perform. University studies prevented their participation in last night's encounter.

A pair of goals scored on deflections gave Port Arthur a flying start. Jack Marshall bounced a shot off a Winnipeg skate for the first score and a partially screened shot by Fred Ralph was deflected into the Winnipeg net five minutes later.

ALBERT KELLY made it 3-0 early in the second period, rifling in a loose puck, and Jack McLeod matched Winnipeg's first reply by Jack Kernahan, in the 10th minute of the period. The Ports were outscored 2-1 over the rest of the period. Barney O'Connell and Paul Kornek sandwiching goals around Port Arthur's fifth and final tally by Norm Wright.

The goalies, Port Arthur's Ken Dargavel in particular, were in good form.

WINNIPEG — Nicholson; Sulker, Sykes; O'Connell; Kernahan, MacDonald, Sulek, Yashuk, Kornek; Messett, Raig, Telemeche.

PORT ARTHUR — Dangabell; Maki, Laprade; Kelley; McKenzie, McLeod; Sulek, Parker, Ralph, Wright, Kotanen, Wrightwell, Kovitsa.

Referees — Hilton McDonald, Melville, Sack, and Ike Morrison, Moose Jaw.

FIRST PERIOD: 1—Port Arthur, Marshall (Laprade) 7:20 2—Port Arthur, Ralph 12:52. Penalties—none.

SECOND PERIOD: 2—Port Arthur, Kelly 1:38 4—Winnipeg, Kernahan (Telemeche) 8:17 5—Port Arthur, McLeod (Kelly) 9:20 6—Winnipeg, O'Connell (MacDonald) 11:28 7—Port Arthur, Wright (Kotanen-Marshall) 13:29 8—Winnipeg, Kornek (Yashuk) 18:28. Penalties — Yashuk, Marshall, Kornek, Maki.

THIRD PERIOD: Scoring none. Penalties — none.

Fastball Meeting

Walk-Rite Senior Girls' Fastball Club, apparently convinced that Spring is just around the corner, will hold its re-organization meeting on Sunday at 4 p.m. at Murray's Ltd., 10628, Jasper Ave. All of last year's players and any others who wish to try out are asked to attend.

Dyer Says Brooklyn "The Club to Fear"

By Jack Hand
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 21, (AP)—Eddie Dyer faces the 1947 season with a better ball club than a year ago but it doesn't necessarily follow that the Red Birds should make a repeat win of the National League pennant.

Dyer thinks his club is a little stronger but he insists that Brooklyn and Boston also are better than in 1946.

"Brooklyn is the club to fear," Dyer says.

THE CARDINAL skipper has worries in the condition of Terry Moore's knee and Whitey Kurowski's elbow. Both underwent operations during the winter and have been slow recovering.

"We should have a little better pitching protection," Dyer says. "George Mauer is a fellow who can win 30 games if he thinks so himself. Then there's Joe Garagiola catching his first full season."

"STAN (MUSIAL) should show improvement around first base. Also last spring we didn't know for sure where we were going to play Red Schoendienst. Now he's our second baseman."

With Harry Brecheen, Howie Pollet and Murray Dickson to form the pitching front line with Mauer, Dyer is well set.

Ted Wilka, who never lost a game all year, figures as a possible starter as do Al Brazie and Ken Burkhardt. Johnny Brantley, Johnny Grodzicki and Fred Schmidt have yet to regain their pre-war form.

Bentley, Richard One Point Apart

MONTREAL, March 21 (CP)—Maurice (Rocket) Richard moved within one point of Chicago's Max Bentley, league scoring leader, as he netted two goals for Montreal against Toronto Wednesday. Richard has 43 goals and 24 assists for 67 points while Bentley who collected one assist in Black Hawks' game against Boston, has 28 tallies and 40 assists for 68 points. Boston's Milt Schmidt moved into a third place tie with Detroit's Billy Taylor when he obtained two assists for 61 points. Ted (Teeter) Kennedy took over fifth place with a goal and an assist for 36 points one more than Doug Bentley of Chicago.

The Leaders:
M. Bentley, Chicago 68
Richard, Montreal 67
Taylor, Detroit 61
Schmidt, Boston 61
Kennedy, Toronto 61
D. Bentley, Chicago 58
B. Conacher, Detroit 58

Pee-Wee Playoff At Arena Monday

The pee-wee hockey championship for northern Alberta will be at stake and Knowles Jewellers, representing Canadian and Edmonton Athletic Clubs respectively, meet in a sudden death game at the arena on Monday at 8:30.

The Ritchie team, which is coached by Rudy Freidrick, ex-NHL and Pacific Coast player, has just emerged winner of a tight playoff series with West End, runners-up in the Canadian pee-wee circuit, which went four games and included two overtime sessions.

An effort is being made to arrange a series between Monday night's winner and the Calgary pee-wee champions.

WINDSOR, Ont., March 21.—(CP)—Windsor police board last night asked Police Chief Claude Renaud to provide a full report on rumors that gambling and vice rackets are operating in this border city and further directed energetic operations be continued.

OF THE VARIOUS reports of gambling places and bawdy houses operating here County Judge A. J. Gordon, commission chairman, said he didn't know whether they were true or false. "But it is our duty to do what we can to clean up this situation."

The meeting stemmed from a visit eight days ago by Deputy Superintendent Kenney Lawrence of the Detroit police, who charged he had information that Windsor was a key link in an international ring providing gambling information.

Plan Wild Life Display At Ottawa

OTTAWA, March 21.—(CP)—Canada's wildlife—and just about every known device for snaring it—will go on display here April 21-26 at a national sportsmen's show.

Says Alderman L. L. Coulter, chairman of Ottawa's publicity committee: "We've got acts and competitions lined up that will make it unparalleled."

"WE'RE BRINGING a complete Indian village from Maniwaki, Que. We have some of the continent's best fishermen, log-rollers and guides."

The sportsmen's festival will revolve around an aluminum water tank, 40 feet long, 25 feet wide with cat-walk around its edges, from which fly-casters will demonstrate.

Scattered around the coliseum will be 100 displays contributed by foreign countries, provincial governments, manufacturers of sporting goods and several states from the United States.

"CANADA," says Ald. Coulter, "never had a chance to show off her outdoor potentialities and this is it."

Officials also have arranged for a group of Quebec woodsmen to compete with professional log-rollers and "show the experts how it's done."

British Laborites Threaten Revolt

By FRASER WIGHTON
LONDON, March 21 (Reuters)—Approximately 100 Labor members of the government are threatening revolt. This time they are rebelling against the government's conscription and defence policies.

At the beginning of the year when more than 70 Labor members were concerned in a "revolt", foreign policy was the issue.

NOW, WITH THE national service bill authorizing peacetime conscription to be debated in the next 10 days, the "rebels" plus most of the small Liberal party, will vote against the proposals—unless the government can persuade them to change their minds.

Some quarters suggested today a breathing space might be obtained by postponing debate on the bill until after May when the Labor party conference is scheduled. At it the government could seek a mandate for departing from its former "no conscription" policy.

Troops On Guard In Convict Revolt

MANDALAY, March 21 (Reuters)—British and Indian troops patrolled the streets of Mandalay, Burma's second largest town, today after a strike action by 1,100 convicts.

POLICE reinforcements were on their way, it was learned here and unconfirmed reports said military authorities had assumed control of the city.

Earlier convicts had set fire to prison buildings in an attempt to escape but police opened fire and quelled the revolt.

There were many reports of strikes, arson and defiance of authority. About 2,000 prisoners were affected.

The unrest followed demands for an immediate amnesty and release of prisoners.

ABOARD U.S.S. MT. OLYMPUS, March 21 (AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Cosmic ray showers are concentrated at the polar regions, due to the pull of the magnetic poles.

Real Estate Licensing Bill Stirs Protests in Assembly

So vigorous were protests of members during discussion on a bill which provides for licensing of real estate agents and salesmen that no less than 10 sections of the bill will be held over for further consideration by the government or for redrafting.

THE LEGISLATURE was in committee Thursday afternoon and was dealing with many features of the bill which were thought to be objectionable. It was explained that the bill had been discussed with real estate agents and that many of its provisions were part of a similar Ontario licensing act.

Reference was made by W. J. Williams (Vet., Edmonton) to a real estate dealer in Edmonton who had bought a garage for $200 and who had sold it to a veteran for $3,600. Would the act restrict such activities, he asked.

He was assured that at the discretion of the superintendent, a dealer could be deprived of his license.

It was explained that an individual could sell his own house in a private deal, but that a number of such transactions would render him an agent and make it necessary to obtain a license.

IT WAS FELT by many members that powers to be granted to the superintendent to refuse or cancel a license were very arbitrary and might result in undue restrictions on business.

However, Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary, who was piloting the bill through committee, explained the purpose of the bill was "for protection of the public."

O'Sullivan was charged with wounding with intent to commit previous bodily harm, a charge which carries life sentence, but was convicted on the less serious charge of wounding.

3 Theft Cases Are Reported

Three theft cases were reported to city police between noon Thursday and Friday morning. The stolen goods include two suitcases, 21 feet of galvanized iron pipe, a sheepskin jacket, steel tape and a room key.

Arthur Stewart, Calgary, and Roland Gribbel, Lacombe, told police that about 6 a.m. Friday they left their suitcases in the rotunda of the Ritz hotel on 97 street, while they went for coffee. They returned in about ten minutes to find the suitcases gone.

The galvanized iron pipe was stolen from beside the home of G. F. Haswell, 11857 Fort Road. Mr. Haswell said the theft took place Wednesday night. Frank Hrbacek, Empire rooms, said the sheepskin vest, steel tape and room key were stolen from his room Friday morning.

Spring Welcome Just the Same

Weather Expert Says Winter Not Too Bad

Edmonton "didn't get the worst of it" in an extremely cold winter for Western Canada, said Dr. Thomas How, head of the meteorological division, Department of Transport, Edmonton, Friday when commenting on the winter just concluded.

TODAY MARKS the first official day of spring, and while all Edmontonians haven't put their fur coats and galoshes into storage for another year, most have taken to suits and tweed coats and are enjoying the spring-like weather enjoyed for just over a week.

Edmonton's winter was, however, remarkable for three reasons, Dr. How said. They were, very cold, windy weather in early February; a long cold spell from Feb. 15 to March 15, without a thaw, and a February that was colder than normal by a daily average of eight degrees.

"GENERALLY speaking it was a very severe winter over Western Canada," he said. "The record of 83 degrees below zero at Snag, the strong cold windy weather in Vancouver; the record snowfalls in southern Alberta and Saskatchewan, particularly which resulted in transportation being held up many weeks, establish it as a near-record winter for cold weather."

It was an uncommonly long winter, he said, made more bitter by the fact that so much cold weather came in February, after a January that was comparatively mild.

WEATHERMEN in most parts of Canada conceded the winter was "mean" and "tough."

Residents of Western provinces consider that it set something of a new record for cold, storms and general inconvenience. The Maritimes call it "one of the best winters in years."

Andrew Thomson, controller of the meteorological division, transport department, head office in Toronto, said:

"THE OUTSTANDING features of the winter were the establishment of an all-time North American low temperature at Snag, Y.T.; the hurricane which struck Vancouver, the Regina blizzard and the snow-blocked highways in Southern Ontario."

Ontario reported an "average" winter; Quebec a "pretty tough" winter; Manitoba "not nearly as cold as winter of 1935-36."

Said a Vancouver weatherman: "It was the meanest in years, topping the cold wave of 1935 which was one of our worst years."

Marvin Huppie, Edmonton, drew a four-month prison term with hard labor when he appeared before Magistrate A. I. Miller in city police court on Friday morning on a charge of being in possession of a canvas tarpaulin stolen from J. J. Wesenberg, 12217 66 street.

Supply Situation Is Improving

An improvement in the supply situation is making it possible for greater production of automobile accessories such as radios, horns and heaters, according to R. M. B. Miller, Kitchener, manager of the automotive supplies department of the R. F. Goodrich Company of Canada.

On a western visit to company jobbers, Mr. Miller is in Edmonton along with the district manager of the division, A. A. Frew, Vancouver.

He said his company was planning on greater production this year, and that while the company intended increasing its staff it would reduce the number of its outlets.

Both officials are guests at the Macdonald hotel.

Stormy Scene in House

Farmers Never Slapped Down, Agriculture Minister States

"The government never did slap the farmers down. I want him to take back that dirty lie right now," shouted Hon. D. B. MacMillan, minister of agriculture, Thursday during debate in the Legislature which followed introduction of a resolution urging the federal government to appoint an Alberta representative to the Agricultural Price Support Board.

THE RESOLUTION had been introduced by the agriculture minister and received that at the time of the non-delivery strike in Alberta last fall, the federal minister of agriculture, Rt. Hon. James G. Gardiner, had assured farmers from the striking farmers that such an appointment would be made.

F. E. Roper (C.P.E.) followed Mr. MacMillan in the debate and after assuring the house that he intended to vote for the resolution, proceeded to "needle" the government on its attitude during the strike.

"I am amused at the resolution," he said, "because the government at the time of the protest did its best to slap the farmers down. IT WAS AT THIS point that the angry voice of the agriculture minister interrupted him, as he leapt.

AMERICA BEFORE COLUMBUS

Ten Great Areas of Indian Life. We have told you of the belief that the remote ancestors of the American Indians were Mongols who, long ago, came over from Asia through Alaska. It probably took them hundreds of years to spread into America. The spreading must have been the result of fitful wanderings. People travelled considerable distances, but only with the lapse of many years. Several generations, at least, must have lived and died by the time some of these people had wandered southward into the heart of North America.

Let us use our imagination and think of the effect of this long stay in Arctic regions upon the way they lived. If they had been farmers, they could not have planted seeds in the Arctic. So with them in their homelands. There were, roughly speaking, ten great areas of North American Indian life, or culture.

1. The Eskimo area—the far northern coastline, the northern islands, and the western half of Alaska.

2. The Mackenzie area—the northwestern part of the continent inside the Eskimo coastline area.

3. The North Pacific coast area—a long, narrow region along the western coast between California and Alaska.

4. The California area—roughly covering the area of the present state.

5. The Plateau area—the small-east of the area, covering the eastern half of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, some of Idaho and southwestern Alberta.

6. The Plains—a great inland section roughly between the Rocky Mountains and Mississippi River, ranging down into Texas, and up into southern Alberta, Saskatchewan and Ontario.

7. The Southwestern area—New Mexico, Arizona and the northern part of Mexico.

8. The Nahua area—the southern part of Mexico, and Central America down to about the middle of Honduras.

9. The Southeastern area—the southern section of the United States east of Oklahoma and Texas, and south of Kentucky.

10. The Eastern Woodland area—a huge section stretching from the Atlantic Ocean west to the Plains, north to the Mackenzie and Eskimo areas, and south to Kentucky.

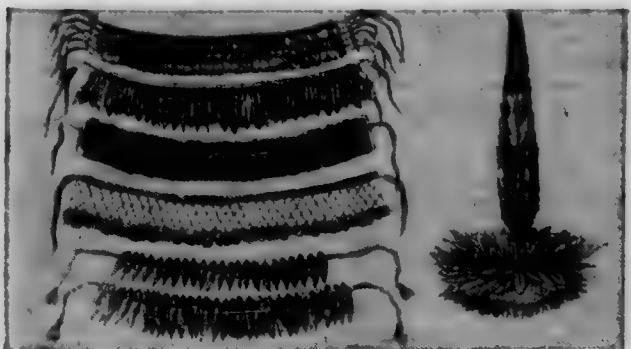

All in all, there were hundreds of tribal groups, some living largely by themselves, some joined together in friendship, by kinship, or by a common language, or for warfare against a common enemy.

They did not always stay in one place, but often roamed over wide territories. They spoke a large number of languages and dialects, even within the same culture areas.

In later articles, we shall tell you of the Indian life in these various areas.

other elements of culture. Most domestic animals cannot live in the Arctic. Knowledge of how to work metal would be lost in the course of wandering where there were no metal mines. Regardless of what knowledge they had when they started out, they could keep only those crafts which could survive for generations in the Arctic.

As far as we can tell from the investigations of early American settlements, it seems clear that the early Indians everywhere knew how to chip stone implements, and how to smooth and polish them by grinding. They had the dog as a domestic animal. They had some knowledge of boats, they had beliefs in the power or supernatural beings. How many other parts of their life were lost in crossing from Asia we shall never know.

Thus, the early American Indians made their way slowly to all parts of North and South America, where in course of time their mode of life developed in very different ways. Some of the facts which caused change we can never know. One fact of tremendous importance was the varied geographical conditions in the two Americas.

Some of the facts which caused change we can never know. One fact of tremendous importance was the varied geographical conditions in the two Americas.

In fact, a good plan for our study of the early Indians is to examine other elements of culture. Most domestic animals cannot live in the Arctic. Knowledge of how to work metal would be lost in the course of wandering where there were no metal mines. Regardless of what knowledge they had when they started out, they could keep only those crafts which could survive for generations in the Arctic.

As far as we can tell from the investigations of early American settlements, it seems clear that the early Indians everywhere knew how to chip stone implements, and how to smooth and polish them by grinding. They had the dog as a domestic animal. They had some knowledge of boats, they had beliefs in the power or supernatural beings. How many other parts of their life were lost in crossing from Asia we shall never know.

Thus, the early American Indians made their way slowly to all parts of North and South America, where in course of time their mode of life developed in very different ways. Some of the facts which caused change we can never know. One fact of tremendous importance was the varied geographical conditions in the two Americas.

Loveless Marriage Leads to Folly

Dear Miss Dix: I am engaged to a young man who is all that any woman could ask for in a husband, and his family are both very anxious for us to marry. But the catch is that while I admire him very much, I don't love him. I just like him, I thought that if I hurried up the wedding I might feel differently about him after we were married, but the more I think of it, the more I dread it.

What do you advise me to do? Shall I go on pretending to love him? Or shall I tell him how I really feel? I know it will hurt him for me to break the engagement. Shall I consider my own happiness first, or his?

Answer: I have answered this question a thousand times, and I shall answer it a thousand times more as long as there is any chance of keeping girls and boys from making the fatal mistake of going on with marriages for which they have lost their desire.

THE ANSWER always is: DON'T DO IT. If you are on the very steps of the altar, turn back if you realize that you no longer love the man or woman to whom you are betrothed. Nothing else that you could do to an innocent man or woman is so cruel as it is to marry him under false pretenses. Don't let pity, or family pressure, or your own cowardice force you into committing such a crime.

There is no hurt that a woman can do to a man that is so deep as for her to marry him without loving him, for she can't keep up the pretense long. It shows itself in her coldness, her neglect, her shrinking away from him, her perpetual fault-finding, and for that bleak experience she takes his support, his name, all that he has to give.

Nor is there any fate so terrible as the humiliation that a woman feels when she knows herself to be an unloved wife, who is merely endured through a sense of duty. Murder is a lesser crime than killing in the soul, and that is what an unloved marriage does to both a man and a woman.

Dear Miss Dix: I have been engaged to Bill for the last three months and we plan to be married soon. We love each other very much. Bill makes a fine living and treats me nicely. Up to last night we had never quarreled. But last night I went to Bill's house and we had a few drinks. After several drinks Bill said I was becoming intoxicated and insisted that I shouldn't drink any more. I told him not to treat me like a child, and took another. Then he called me a spoiled brat and turned me across his knees and spanked me soundly.

WHEN MY mother and father heard of this they thanked Bill and offered the razor strap for Bill to use any time I got drunk again. But my girl friend thinks that I should quit Bill and call him a woman-beater.

Do you think that I deserved the spanking, or should I give Bill up? Jane

Answer: I think you deserved it richly, and I think that it is a pity that all husbands with bibulous wives don't apply the same treatment. Also, it would be equally efficacious with the husband and wife role reversed. In fact, I did know of one case where a wife sewed her drunken husband up in a sheet and then administered such a beating that it permanently cured him of the drink habit.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a young man 29 year old. Served four years in the army. Am unmarried and live with my parents. But unfortunately, the drink habit is beginning to fasten itself upon me. On several occasions recently I have returned home under the influence of liquor, which greatly distresses my father and mother.

Of course, my father knows that you cannot force a man of 29 to do anything he doesn't wish to do. What would you advise me to do under the circumstances? Leave home, or remain and fight it out? I have a fine salary, but throw most of it away.

Anxious to do the right thing

Answer: I think you are a case for the Alcoholics Anonymous, and I urge you to contact it immediately. There are several branches in the city in which you live. But neither they nor anyone else can help a man who will not help himself, or reform one who does not desire to be reformed.

Protest Increase In Food Prices

Protesting the recent increase in price of beef, and the probable removal of subsidies on butter, members of the Edmonton Housewives' League passed resolutions at a recent meeting to be sent to War-time Prices and Trade Board.

THE RESOLUTION, protesting the rise in cost of beef of three cents per pound, urged the government to "maintain price ceilings on foodstuffs and prevent any further increases for the time being."

The resolution was passed, in view of the fact that beef is a main item in the diet of most Canadian families and that the increase in other commodities, "will still further restrict the diet of families in the low income brackets."

The resolution on butter pointed out that the removal of the subsidy "will bring a price increase of at least 10 cents a pound," and this increase will probably reduce consumption "to the detriment of the family diet and to the farmer."

It urged the government to maintain the subsidy on butter.

Real Estate Bill

and that there was no suggestion of restraint in the minds of the government when the bill was drafted.

It is provided that the only appeal from a decision of the superintendent is to the minister and from him to the cabinet. In the case of an agent or salesman who feels he has been unjustly treated in the cancellation of a license or by the withholding of one.

PREMIER MANNING repeated the provincial secretary's statement to indicate that protection of the public was the purpose of the bill and not the protection of the real estate business.

Objections also were taken to the power of the superintendent to seize books of real estate firms. Others objected to provisions exempting lawyers from being listed as agents, though attorney general Lucien Maynard, K.C., insisted that lawyers furnished ample protection to their clients.

Another objection was to a clause which makes it illegal for a vendor to list a house with an agent, telling him that the seller wanted so much money from the house, the agent to take his own whatever was received above that amount.

MOST HOUSES were listed in that fashion, it was indicated.

Premier Manning suggested that one penalty might be increased by forcing the agent to return to his victim whatever sums he had obtained unjustly. This was in answer to an objection by J. Harper Prowse (Army) that the section on penalties was not sufficiently severe.

Enthusiastic Crowds Delay King, Queen

DURBAN, South Africa, March 21—(Reuters)—Enthusiastic crowds mobbing the royal car made the king and queen and the princesses 30 minutes late in arriving at Durban city hall for the civic ball last night. People paid as much as £45 ($180) for the tickets. They watched the princesses dance time and time again. During the day people peered through field glasses over the hedges surrounding the king's house in the hope of catching glimpses of the royal family.

Plan Arrange Formation Of Edmonton Branch C of CW

Decision to call a conference to the library of the Masonic Temple April 30 to organize individuals and organizations interested in forming an Edmonton branch of the Congress of Canadian Women was reached at a women's meeting Thursday night at the Masonic Temple auditorium. Approximately 330 women and a few men attended.

MRS. WILLIAM ROWAN was chairman, and will continue as chairman of the initiating committee until the conference is held. Spirited discussion from the floor followed the motion to hold an organization meeting. Also to form a western link at Edmonton and other large cities with the eastern branch of the Congress at Toronto.

Plea for the organization of women to establish permanent peace was given in French by Dr. Dora Kilnova, and translated by Mrs. R. M. Werry of the University of Alberta French department.

Dr. Kilnova, who saw Fascism in action in France during the war, lived and suffered through two years in a concentration camp, attended the international Congress of Women in Paris November 25, 1945. That meeting originated with women active in resistance groups in wartime France, and included women from all professions, religions, nationalities and housewives, she said.

THE WOMEN were united in that they all suffered by participation in the resistance movement during the war, and were determined to continue the fight against existing Fascism in France.

"In the past women have been shy of public life . . . for centuries the education has been to keep women in the home, while men ran the world," said Dr. Kilnova. "Now a change of thought is coming about, due partly to the fact that women are getting the vote throughout the world."

She cited as an example of progress the fact that the president of the parliament of Czechoslovakia is a woman.

"If the declarations of war were in the hands of women, perhaps there would be fewer wars, since women's sons and husbands have to go to fight," Dr. Kilnova said.

"Just as women during the war have taken their part in Europe, women in Canada can play their part . . . the whole world is now interdependent. Women want victory this time for peace."

REFERRING to her own experiences in a concentration camp of the enemy, where she was allowed to live because she was a doctor, she said she saw people ed to his feet and vigorously punctuated his demand with heavy desk thumping. "Withdraw! Withdraw!" echoed government backbenchers. "I won't withdraw!" cried the CCF leader.

Momentary calm was restored by the Speaker and Mr. Roper continued "Well, that's what they tried to do."

Again he was interrupted by Mr. MacMillan who shouted to the Speaker "Don't let him repeat that. Are you going to let him get away with that?"

SPEAKER DAWSON pointed out to Mr. MacMillan that he had the right to rebuttal and requested no further interruption. The minister sank to his seat remarking that he "didn't want any rebuttal."

The CCF leader said the resolution proposed by the government was not what it seemed. They were "throwing out a political lifeline to save themselves from disaster."

Premier Ernest Manning read from a statement he had issued to the public at the time of the farm strike and also read a number of telegrams he had sent to Prime Minister King while the strike was in progress.

All these indicated, he said, that the government was supporting the pleas of the striking farmers, though no approach had been made by the farmers for assistance from the provincial government.

"THE LEADER of the CCF, out of all men in the province, is one of the first to seek political advantage from the misfortunes of others," Mr. Manning charged.

A. J. E. Liesemer (CCF-Calgary) rose to the defence of his leader and threw back at the government the charge of political maneuvering.

Premier Manning denied promptly a charge by the CCF member from Calgary that he had been on the radio the day before the strike started, asking farmers not to take strike action.

During the strike, instead of supporting the farmers, the premier in a radio broadcast had spent half his time accusing the CCF and the other half in pleading with the farmers to stop the strike, M. Liesemer said.

"IF THIS IS NOT a slap in the face, it was at best a stab in the back," he concluded.

D. Ure (SC-Med Deer) and C. I. Sayers (SC-Camrose) both blamed hardships occasioned by the strike on agitators sent out by the CCF. Both said many of the farmers in their home districts did not favor the strike, but by pressure had observed it.

Arthur Wray (Ind. SC-Banff-Cochrane) said the increase of 30 cents a bushel which farmers now were getting for grain processed in Canada was a direct result of the strike. H. E. Deholt (SC-Spirit River) also took part in the debate.

Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general, said that if the government had not introduced such a resolution the CCF would have, so that the government were damned if they did and damned if they didn't. He pleaded for greater unanimity in the house and said that should the federal government learn of difficulties in passing such a resolution they might be less inclined to listen to Alberta's requests.

"selected like cattle . . . come to go to the gas chamber, because they were considered unfit to live . . . others to go to work gangs." She saw doctors "re-hashing" old experiments on people who were not German, with the object of exterminating all the people in the camps. There was no possibility of scientific benefit.

"The time has arrived when every woman should awaken to the fact that the successful operation of the country depends on her, just as the successful operation of the home depends on her," Mrs. Grace Knight stated at the meeting. She spoke on "The Urgency of Peace."

MRS. KNIGHT suggested women should "study the facts concerning the world in which we live, refrain from spreading fear, prejudice and racial differences, become intelligent in United Nations organizations in their vicinity, support morally and financially any movements to promote happy, wholesome childhood, consider the contribution of the individual to civic administration, and make democracy work."

Miss B. Newton, staff member of the University of Alberta school of education traced existing educational conditions. She asked for establishment of a better quality of education of children, and encouraged the establishment of kindergarten and nursery schools under well trained specialists.

BRINGING greetings from the Association of United Ukrainian Canadians, Mrs. William Orlecki, president, said her association would support establishment in Edmonton of a branch of the Congress of Canadian Women.

Message from Mrs. E. P. Jones, formerly an executive member of the Alberta Farmers' Union, was read by Mrs. Rowan, as Mrs. Jones was unable to be present. Farm women continued at their jobs during the war when their sons and husbands were away fighting, therefore women's service to farming should receive greater acknowledgment now, the message said. If organized, farm women could become a strong force in democracy, it was stated.

Mrs. Rowan read a letter from Sweden from the International Federation of Women.

MAY ASK BLUM To Form Govt. PARIS, March 21.—(Reuters)—Leon Blum, veteran Socialist leader who was French popular front premier before the war and whom the present premier, Paul Ramadier, succeeded, may again be called to form a government if no compromise is reached with the Communists before tomorrow's critical vote of credits for Indo-China, several newspapers suggested today.

Simmons Company Issues 75th Report

NEW YORK—Simmons Company, makers of beds and mattresses, which has several factories and warehouses in Canada, reports record sales for its 75th year in business. Net earnings were also at record level, $5.08 per share. Materials used cost $37,636,700 or 86 percent more, wages totalled $30,430,000 or about one-third more than in 1945. Income taxes of $5,594,811 almost doubled.

Raising the government threat to penalize companies that do not hand over at least 70 percent of earnings to shareholders, said the demand for so-called surplus earnings came from a misconception, said the president Grant Simmons. Organized labor wanted a slice and no such volume of output could be produced without much new machinery, equipment and replacement. It was necessary to use a large share of these earnings and borrow too. To borrow all the funds to permit of paying dividends of upwards of 70 percent of so-called earnings would guarantee inevitable failure, he asserted.

Montreal, Toronto Stocks

MONTREAL (CP)—Winnipeg Electric was a bright spot in otherwise dull dealings and was moderately active with a rise of $\frac{1}{4}$ at 17 $\frac{1}{2}$. Papers were only lightly exchanged and prices narrow. Club Aircraft eased down to 2 while other industrials were quiet and mostly unchanged.

TORONTO (CP)—Dome was off a fraction as was Balmora in senior golds. Losses predominated as in secondary golds where changes were slight. Balmora's board gains for about three issues and losses for about six.

VEGREVILLE HEREFORD $3,800
CALGARY (CP)—There were indications that all last year's records for bull sale prices would be broken at this year's sale as the livestock auction swung into its fourth day.

The reserve champion Hereford, Torvik Blanchard 15th, consigned by Henry Zeigler and Sons of Vegreville, topped all previous prices for any breed this year when he brought $3,800 in the dying moments of the Wednesday session. The nicely turned and well fitted bull was bought by Al Price of Crossfield. Another Hereford bull from the herd of Wright and Bond of Irreana brought $3,000, the buyer being K. L. Kallal of Tofield.

ABITIBI EXEMPTED
OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott announced the five-percent bonds of the Abitibi Power and Paper Company Limited, due in 1965 and expected to be redeemed shortly, would not be affected by the new legislation he plans to introduce this session dealing with funding bonds.

Mr. Abbott said he was making his announcement after reconsidering his statement of Feb. 7 in which he stated that the new legislation would give certainty to the law in cases where funding or refunding bonds have been issued in respect of unpaid arrears of interest.

Under the proposed legislation the value of such bonds would be treated as income of the recipient in the year of receipt of the bond.
